F O R E W O R D

As another college year is summarized and sandwiched between the covers of another VIRGINIAN, we hope this yearbook will convey a theme of informality. For it is, we feel, informality that makes Longwood a delightful locale for learning and living. And "living" means everyday doings, mundane to us now, but magical as we look back on them in reminiscence. We'll remember waiting in that bank line (it's always longest on Saturday!) . . . stumbling through a just-learned color song . . . fighting sleep to witness the colonnade procession . . .

Informality marks these and all our daily activities, and it is of these activities that memories are made.

D E D I C A T I O N

Through the years you have guided us in developing scientific, logical thinking in all phases of our lives.

How can we begin to enumerate the many ways that you have managed to widen your circle of friends by always showing sympathetic interest to our problems?

Because of this unquestioning loyalty to Longwood and her students, we, the staff of the 1963 VIRGINIAN, dedicate this yearbook with pride and thanks to two wonderful people:

To Dr. George W. Jeffers, dear "Dr. Jeff," whose knowledge and gentle heart has led us through many times of trial;

And to Raymond H. French, our own "Charlie Hop," whose boundless cheerfulness and spirit have kept us ever mindful of the closeness of Longwood College.

PRESIDENT of LONGWOOD
COLLEGE

DR. AND MRS. FRANCIS G. LANKFORD, JR.

ACTING PRESIDENT

Mr. Fred O. Wygal, acting president of Longwood College, has a varied educational background. He has maintained various positions in the field of education such as high school principal, superintendent of schools and in the Virginia Department of Education.

During Mr. Wygal's year at Longwood we have seen a growth in dormitory space, additions to the training school, and the completion of a new gymnasium.

His guidance and influence have meant a great deal to the students, and his ideas and suggestions have been a challenge to everyone.

Student teachers, long-faced girls, robe-clad ladies—these are the seniors climbing toward graduation. Hard-working juniors usher in the new class, make plans for the junior dance, and receive the long-awaited rings. Loud sophomores yell "Run! Rat! Run!" and delve deeper into college routines. The new freshmen experience "ratting" and orientation to become a part of Longwood College . . . These classes, though competitive at times, are most happy when gathered around the Rotunda singing such phrases as "Among the gleaming columns . . ."

Eager Seniors line up to be capped by their little sisters

The main rec is a relaxing place for these senior girls to have an afternoon chat.

Shirley Dunnivant caps Barbara Gray Martin

A swaying movement expresses the spirit aroused by the winning class song.

Proudly worn blazers mark Longwood's outstanding athletes. Further proof of athletic prowess—or, at least, participation—might include a wet coiffure only half-hidden by a scarf . . . a bluish bruise inflicted by a rampant hockey stick . . . the unuttered homage paid to all "majors." Whether class or varsity, sports are a warm and welding force in our school life.

BLAZER AWARDS

LIVE ACTION

Note-filled "wires," announcements in the dining hall, and a frantic search for thumb tacks. All make us aware of the numerous organizations that are a part of our campus life. Religious inspiration, culture, and laughter are only a small part of the stimulating interests that are obtainable through such campus organizations. Wherever you find a group of happy girls or an awe-inspired audience, you will see the effects of one of our many organizations.

In my dreams I hold anew
Each college friendship tie;
Old campus chums pass in review

And staunch and true, as years pass through,
Is my fraternity.

SONG

It's not the yellow rose, or the Emerald and Gold,
 It's not the pins we wear, or the meetings we hold.
 These are neat, you see, but the best for me
 Are my sisters in ΑΣΤ.

It's not the hats we wear when the rains they might pour,
 It's not the anchor proud that we hang on our door.
 These we love dearly, but the best for me
 Are my sisters in ΑΣΤ.

Travelling north, south, east or west,
 From Alaska to Hawaii's shore,
 ΑΣΤ's are travelling girls,
 And sisters to you—forevermore!

Now these symbols all are important things
 Of ΑΣΤ life and the friendship it brings.
 So from sea to sea, or where e'er you be,
 You know the BESTEST IS ΑΣΤ!

Because you let us be

Thanks in a special way;

But sisters you will see
How we all love ΔΖ.
May we your standards hold
As all our dreams unfold,
And as the years go by
Our love will never die.
Sisters, we love you true;
Our hearts we give to you;
From you we'll never stray;

PHI MU

GAMMA IOTA CHAPTER

FOUNDED: WESLEYAN COLLEGE, MARCH 4, 1852, MACON, GEORGIA
COLORS: ROSE AND WHITE

SONG

Phi Mu friends all around you
All the while;
Everywhere that you travel
You'll find a Phi Mu smile.
You'll enjoy friends at college
While you're there;
After college you'll love them
Even though they're not there.
Someday you'll leave your college friends
And wind up where they all are far behind you.
A Phi Mu friend will help your strife,
And then you'll know why—
Phi Mu friends all around you
All the while;
Everywhere that you travel
You'll find a Phi Mu smile.

Captured on the following pages are happy highlights of Longwood's "fun side." Memories of activities unique to Longwood may be triggered by a glimpse of the white gowns of Freshman Commission at Christmas . . . the "Circus" Animal Trainer's ever-present plaid shirt . . . the symbolic azure and rose of the Madonna's robe . . . Traditional in all colleges are May Court and dances, but we swell with pride at our bevy of beauties and growing reputation for lively dances—a quite justifiable pride, we think these pages prove!

"Circus" is that part of Longwood which functions to unite each of our classes. Each person experiences something different in "Circus"; but for all, "Circus" offers a feeling of kinship, and it develops and renews a deep love of our college.

Students filled with enthusiasm and competition unfold the true spirit of our college with their participation in "Circus."
